

To Whom It May Concern:

I have been a resident in Arizona for about 4 months and before that I lived in California. I have been listening to K-Love since I have been living here in Arizona. For me it has been difficult to adjust to the changes in my life and K-Love has really encouraged me in my everyday activities. When I get sad or depressed I can turn on uplifting music and realize why I am where I am, and it is because God put me there. I can listen to it at work over the internet and I feel encouraged knowing that God is with me and is using K-Love to show his love. I like the fact that K-Love does not have to be monitored so heavily and is supported financially by its listeners unlike other radio stations that work using advertisements. Therefore the listener hears more music than commercials which gives music companies more reason to have their music played on K-Love. If K-Love were to be displaced by an LPFM broadcaster our community might lose the chance to hear the good news and the love of God. There are not very many Christian run music stations in Arizona and this would really hurt the community.

Sincerely,
